

Charles Bickford – The Enterprising Farmer

CB: There's an old saying here that kind of used to impress me. Back when the old road was a dirt road, and there's quite a hollow beyond, there's always a great mud hole there. And her grandfather used to have to go down and pull somebody out of it, three, four times a day. On their way to Barre or Montpelier, you know. And, they always claimed to me he's living that way, and the joke always has been that he used to draw water down there and dump it in the mud hole. Ha! Ha! Ha! Ha!

Gregory Sharrow: Ha! Ha! Ha!

CB: Don't know how much truth there was to it, but...
